Alberta Official Statistics

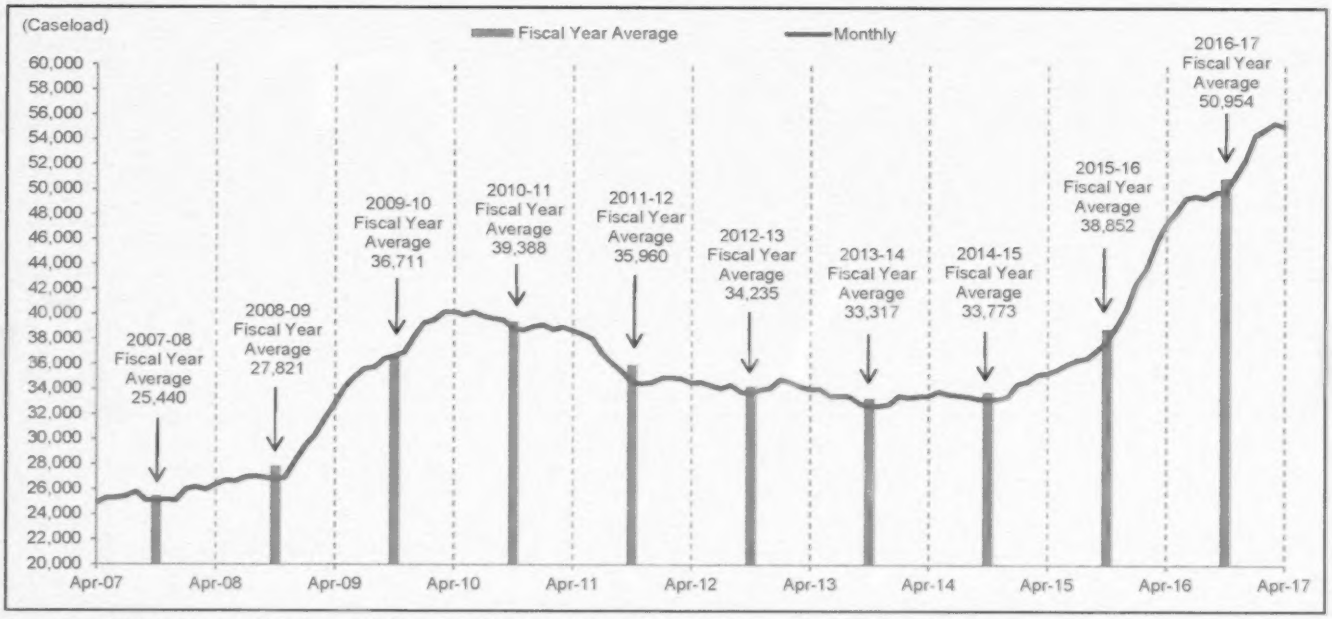
Income Support Caseload, Alberta

- Income Support (IS) provides financial benefits to individuals and families in Alberta who do not have the resources to meet their basic needs, including food, clothing, and shelter.
- The IS caseload[1] in April 2017 was 55,088 which was a decrease of 0.5% from March 2017.
- In April 2017, the IS caseload was composed of single individuals (68.8%), lone-parent families (23.7%), couples with children (4.8%) and couples without children (2.6%).
- Albertans who were expected to work (ETW) represented 63.3% of the IS caseload in April 2017. Of the ETW caseload, 9.0% were working, 53.5% were not working and 37.5% were temporarily unavailable for work.

1 A caseload is the number of households categorized as Expected to Work (ETW) or as having Barriers to Full Employment (BFE) during a specific reporting period. A household comprises one or more family members. People who need upgrading or training so they can get a job (Learners) may also receive Income Support but they are not included in this Alberta Official Statistic.

Income Support Caseload

Alberta



Sources: Alberta Human Services, InfoPac and Strategic Information Environment (CPS Data Mart)

Alberta Government

Updated: June 9, 2017
Contact: OSI Support
osi.alberta.ca